Those who recall the "Grace meeting" in the Harris theatre, in this city, two summers ago, may ponder with mingled emotions over the announcement that the mayor of Charleston and the Governor of South Carolina have shaken hands and buried the past. For peculiarities, the heathen Chinese hasn't anything on the South Carolina politicians.

PARCEL POST LAWS ARE NOW AMENDED PLANS FOR SMOKER ARE NOW COMPLETE

On and After March 16 Books and Printed Matter Can Be Sent by Parcel Post Executive Committee of Chamber of Commerce Laid Final Plans at Meeting Yesterday

Recent rulings of the postoffice department and certain changes in the parcel post system will affect thousands of people in the United States. According to the new ruling, books and printed matter will be accepted for transportation by way of parcel post after March 16, this having heretofore been impossible. In a recent article appearing in the Intelligencer it was said that letters might be sent without postage, payment for same to be made at twice the rate when it is delivered. This is true but inadvertently the statement was omitted that this applies only to letters and packages for foreign delivery. No domestic mail will be accepted in that manner.

Notice has been received by Postmaster Cochran of the amendment of the postal laws on regulations by the postmaster general so that third class matter, weighing more than 5 pounds, will be handled at parcel post rates, the zone regulations to apply, of course, the amendment is already operative, and it is expected that its benefits will be turned to account. The third-class rates on matter weighing four pounds and less apply regardless of distance. A large number of concerns are sending out a quantity of matter that is considered third-class by the postoffice department and it is understood that a heavy proportion of it weighs more than four pounds. Heretofore, it is said, the heavy packages have been forwarded by express. It is thought that a goodly portion of it will be diverted to the postoffice. Included in third class matter are books, circulars, pamphlets, proof sheets, or other printed matter and letters written in point print or characters used in the blind. The rate on this class of matter has been one cent for two ounces or fraction thereof, when sent to one address. On and after March 16 books will be admitted to mail matter as ordinary parcels in accordance with a ruling of the postmaster-general issued about two months ago. The zone system and rates will then apply to all books whether weighing four pounds or less. According to an order received here from the office of the postmaster-general, letters and post or postal cards may be dispatched whether or not any postage is prepaid thereon. Other articles shall not be dispatched unless prepaid at least in part and in all cases of insufficient prepayment double the amount of the deficiency shall be collected of the addressee. The option of no prepayment or of part prepayment of postage shall not apply, however, to either letters or other articles mailed with the apparent intention of avoiding prepayment. Another order received was in the nature of a reminder to users of "window" envelopes. A great quantity of these are being used by concerns and some concerns employ them for the purpose of reminding patrons that they are in arrears. Generally over the country the "window" envelopes have come into common service and the order, effective July 1, next, will affect tens of thousands of offices. It is believed. The chief reason for the issuance of the latest order on the subject is to warn persons using the "window" envelopes not to be overstocked. The text of the provisions of the postal regulations applicable to such envelopes is as follows: "So-called window envelopes, having an opening or transparent panel through which the address upon the enclosure is disclosed, are mailable under the following conditions: (a) The window shall be parallel with the length of the envelope; and for changes of address, it shall not occupy any space within 3-8 inches from the top nor within 3-8 inches from the bottom or ends of the envelope. (Effective July 1, 1914.) (b) Windows shall not be colored and shall be made or treated so as to be transparent as possible; but windows slightly discolored by the oil used to make them transparent shall not be considered as 'colored' (Effective July 1, 1914.) (c) All window envelopes shall bear the return card of the sender. (Effective July 1st, 1914.) (d) Window envelopes which do not conform to the foregoing requirements, shall when deposited in the mails, be returned to the sender, if known; otherwise they shall be sent to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, division of dead letters. (e) Changes of address shall not be made on the window, but on the opaque portion of the envelope. (f) If the matter enclosed in window envelopes is not folded so as to expose the complete address through the window or the address is not printed or written legibly, the envelopes shall be laid aside for treatment after disposition shall have been made of other mail. If the address cannot be read, the envelopes shall be returned to the sender, if known; otherwise, they shall be sent to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, division of dead letters."
